PLAINVIEW, N.Y., Nov. 19, 2025 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) – Vaso Corporation (“Vaso”) (OTCQX: VASO), a leading MedTech company with a diversified business portfolio in network and healthcare IT services, professional sales services and proprietary medical products, announced today that it had reached an agreement, subject to certain conditions, with Nano-X Imaging Ltd. (“Nanox”) (Nasdaq: NNOX), an innovative medical imaging technology company, to sell one of its subsidiaries, VasoHealthcare IT Corp. The parties intend to complete the sale within a couple of weeks.

VasoHealthcare IT Corp. (“VasoHealthcare IT”), a healthcare IT application value added reseller, is a division of Vaso’s information technology business segment. “The decision to sell our VasoHealthcare IT subsidiary to Nanox resulted from a strategic review of our lines of business,” Dr. Jun Ma, President and Chief Executive Officer of Vaso, commented on the transaction. “The divestiture of VasoHealthcare IT will allow us to sharpen our focus on our core operations and competencies. We believe the sale of this line of business is a positive development for our shareholders and provides a strong future for the VasoHealthcare IT team as part of Nanox.”

VasoHealthcare IT provides imaging information technology to hospitals and healthcare providers and represented less than 5% of Vaso’s total revenue. The transaction consideration is up to $800,000, with $200,000 payable at closing and up to $600,000 as an earnout based on the post-closing performance of the business. Vaso expects to use the proceeds from the sale to invest in its other business lines and for strategic initiatives.
